Haskins

The earliest record of this family is found in 1567, in the marriage lists of Somersetshire, England, when we find that John Haskins married Elizabeth Cudball. The name appears in other localities in England and is spelled differently, Hauskyns, Haskens, Hoskins.

In America, the Haskins were well represented by a number of first settlers in both the New England and the Virginia colonies. In Virginia they located in Henrico County. Edward Haskins, of the Henrico County branch, was an eminent man in his time and owner of large estates near the Appomattox River.

In Revolutionary days this family was well represented in the military ranks, and some members attained outstanding distinction. Representing the Virginia branch, some of the Haskinses of the Revolution were Col. Robert, Capt. Creed, Aaron. In the House of Delegates, during the Revolutionary period, Edward Haskins was conspicuous.

Virginia troops which had served in the French War were awarded bounty lands in Kentucky and some of these settlers in Green and Adair counties included the names of Col. Robert Haskins, Col. Daniel Trabue, Henry Hatcher and many others. Descendants of these pioneer families moved into other sections of the State of Kentucky, into Tennessee, Missouri and elsewhere.

The coat of arms here shown is used by the descendants of the Virginia Haskinses.

Dear Mrs. Chapman,

I saw in the Handbook of American Genealogy that you were interested in the Haskins and Bennett families. I am looking up both of these lines and perhaps we can exchange information.

I am particularly interested in finding out more about my gr gr grandfather Col. Edward Haskins. I feel sure he must have lived in Virginia as all of the rest of the family that I know anything about lived there. His first wife was Anne Glenn Finch (dau. of Anne Glenn Bacon) and their children were Mary Elizabeth (my gr grandmother; b. about 1818; d. Apr. 18, 1853) and William Zachariah. Mary Elizabeth was the first wife of William Archer Smith. They were married Dec. 15, 1835. May 3, 1854, William A. Smith married Mary Elizabeth's cousin, Lucy Ann Finch.

I have Bennetts on both my mother's and father's side of the house. My grandfather Gregory was named James Bennett G. and one of my relatives tells me the name came from his mother's family (She was Rebecca Smith Doggett, daughter of Benjamin Doggett) On my mother's side there were three Tichenor brothers who married three Bennett sisters from Virginia. Jared Tichenor (b. 2-28-1779 married Martha Bennett in 1802 or 3. Jonas T. (b. 8-4-1784; d. 4-9-1867) married Sarah Bennett Jan. 5, 1804. She died 10-11-1837. James T. (b. 10-12-1794; d. May 1885) married Mar. 31, 1814 Margaret Bennett (b. 9-16-1790; d. 2-2-1865). The Tichenors lived in Kentucky. The mother of these men was Anna Byram Conduit, gr gr gr granddaughter of John Alden.

I am hoping that you may be able to tell me more about some of these people. If you are interested in any of the material that I have collected I shall be happy to send it to you.

Very truly yours,

Annie-Laurie Gregory
